December Teen of the Month

Sweta Patel is a student at Lodi High School. Sweta is involved in many activities and in these activities she always excels. As an officer in FBLA she is involved in planning many of our community service activities. This year she is planning a party for elementary school students during Christmas. At this party she will coordinate the food and presents each young child will receive. She will also assist in other community service activities that are planned for FBLA this year (canned food drive, women's shelter). Last year Sweta was also involved in coordinating and monitoring the community service activities (canned food drive, Mary Graham Hall, Lodi Women's Shelter). In addition she is involved in school activities and keeps a high grade point average as well. She is an outstanding Teen because of her involvement in school and the community.
