evaluation studies and recoverable during the years 1997 through 2005.

The 1996 electric shareholder incentive request produces an electric Customer Energy Efficiency (CEE) shareholder incentive revenue requirement decrease of $12.8 million. This decrease is primarily due to the fact that as of December 31, 1995, PG&E will no longer collect shareholder earnings related to its 1991 DSM program, and to adjustments made to reflect the results of an audit of prior years' DSM expenditures. The gas CEE shareholder incentive revenue requirement would decrease by $3.8 million as a result of this filing.

The revenue requirement changes proposed in PG&E's application would not increase PG&E's rates for any of its electric or gas customer classes. PG&E's AEAP application requests that, consistent with the proposed 1996 electric rate freeze, the decrease in the electric revenue requirement that would result from this application be offset by an equal increase in PG&E's 1996 Electric Revenue Adjustment Mechanism (ERAM) balance. This ratemaking treatment would decrease the 1996 ERAM revenue requirement. PG&E's AEAP application proposes that the resulting gas revenue requirement changes be consolidated with those from other gas proceedings held in 1995.

The state, counties, and municipal corporations, and any other parties interested in the above-mentioned filing can obtain a copy of Application No. 95-04-041 and related testimony upon written request made to Pilar Garcia, Pacific
