

CITY COUNCIL MEETING

March 17, 1982

To such end, the following design for the establishment of a Lodi Arts Commission is hereby submitted.

Council received the heretofore referenced material and a review of the material was presented for Council's consideration.

Following discussion, Council determined

- (a) That the growth and flourishing of art and culture depend upon freedom, imagination and individual initiative;
- (b) That the encouragement and support of art and culture, while primarily a matter for private and local initiative, is also an appropriate matter of concern of the City of Lodi.
- (c) That this City's prestige and general welfare will be promoted by providing recognition that art and culture, and the creative spirit which motivates them and which they personify, are valued as an essential part of the City's resources;
- (d) That it is in the best interest of the City of Lodi to maintain, develop and disseminate the City's artistic and cultural resources;
- (e) That the continued growth of the Arts can no longer be sustained by traditional resources:
and
- (f) That in order to implement these findings it is desirable to establish the Lodi Arts Commission to provide such recognition and assistance as will encourage and promote the City's artistic and cultural progress.

LODI ARTS COMMISSION
ESTABLISHED

RES. NO. 82-30

and on motion of Councilman Pinkerton, Murphy second, Council adopted Resolution No. 82-30 establishing a Lodi Arts Commission, asking for nominations of its 15 members from the various arts disciplines, and directing the City Clerk to make the necessary posting for applications.

LODI ARTS COMMISSION

INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

The stature of a community is not measured by size alone but in the way its physical and cultural needs are met.

With this in mind as being most important and with the establishment of the Lodi Community Center, which adheres to the above statement, along with the constant and concrete evidence of an expanding interest in the arts, both nationally and locally, it is most advisable that a Lodi Arts Commission be established to assist local arts groups to become more reflective of the wide range of contributive talents existing within the community.

Such a commission, parallel to and balancing the existing Recreation Commission, will provide strong support within the administration of the Lodi Community Center and will prove a valuable assist to the City in procuring such monies from regional, state, and national sources as may be available in support of the arts and their furtherance.

To such end, the following design for the establishment of a Lodi Arts Commission is hereby submitted.
