RE: Inactive Applications for Industrial Development Bond Financing

Dear Mr. Peterson:

Your Industrial Development Authority approved an application by Wallace Computer Service for industrial revenue bond financing in the amount of $3,000,000. The California Industrial Development Financing Advisory Commission (CIDFAC) subsequently approved Resolution/s for the Applicant of this project.

As you know Resolutions are effective for a period of only six months from the date of adoption by the Commission unless a Resolution of Extension has been adopted by the Commission.

The six month period for which the Resolutions are effective has elapsed on this project.

This is to notify you that CIDFAC will classify this project as inactive unless a written request for a Resolution of Extension is received by CIDFAC within 60 days of the date of this letter.

When a project is classified as inactive by the Executive Secretary of CIDFAC a new application fee and a new application process will have to be initiated.
